(9-79) VESPASIAN (w/ TITUS FLAVIUS VESPASIANUS)

A Roman emperor of humble origin. He passed through minor military offices until in the reign of CLAUDIUS he was made commander of a legion and was sent to Britain in 43 where he conquered the Isle of Wight. In 66 he was chosen to conduct the against the Jews in Jerusalem. When Galba died in 69 he was proclaimed emperor by his soldiers in Alexandria.

The Senate meantime proclaimed OTHO.
Civil war resulted, for the Army in Germany had proclaimed their general, VITELLIUS, emperor. Vespasian being in Egypt cut off the grain supply from Rome, gave the Jewish war over to his son, TITUS, and remained in the East. OTHO died a violent death and the Army of Vitellius was routed. The murder of Vitellius in 69 left Vespasian in control of the Roman world. He reigned for 10 yrs. Titus took Jerusalem (70). Vespasian & Titus shared the grand triumph. The Colosseum was built. Britain was conquered by AGRICOLA in 78 & 79. He died in 79 & was succeeded by TITUS, his son.
